PETER PAN IS COMING

"The Little Boy Who Wouldn't Grow Up" is Played by Betty Bronson, Chosen by Barrie Himself for Paramount Picture—Comes March 27-28

"Who are you, Pan?"
"I am Youth, Eternal Youth!"
"I am the Sun rising, I am Poet's Singing."
I am the New World. I am a little bird

That has broken out of the egg,
I am Joy! Joy! Joy!

Such is the spirit of Sir James M. Barrie's famous play, "Peter Pan," which will be shown at the College Auditorium on Friday and Saturday nights, March 27 and 28. There will also be a matinee showing of the picture on Saturday. Admission to the matinee will be 15 cents for children under twelve and 25 cents for adults; for evening showing it will be 25 cents for students and 35 cents for the general public. Tickets may be secured at the door. Reserved seats at same prices may be secured at Kuchis Bros.

"Peter Pan," a Paramount picture, produced by Herbert Brenon with a fine all-star cast, is one of the most charming classics of the stage, one of the most delightful fantasies ever screened. Betty Bronson, who plays the title role, was selected for the part by Barrie himself. Beauty is one of the outstanding characteristics of this production. The groupings, the settings, the costumes, the lighting effects, the unusual pictorial results, combine to make "Peter Pan" one of the most elaborate and charming pictures ever filmed. A synopsis of the story follows:

"Peter Pan, the Little Boy Who Wouldn't Grow Up!" Because his mother told him that one day he would grow up and be President, "Peter Pan" ran away from home the day he was born.

In the Never-Never Land, where Peter went, he became captain of the Little Lost Boys who fell out of their perambulators when the nurses were not looking.

On the night when Sir James M. Barrie's beautiful story opens, things go forward in the nursery of the Darling family very much as on other nights. Wendy, John and Michael are tucked away to sleep and Mr. and Mrs. Darling go off to a neighbor's for dinner.

While the three children lie sleeping, each in a tumbled pile of bedding, the night lights, left by Mrs. Darling to guard her little ones, mysteriously flicker and go out. The fire-light grows dim upon the floor and suddenly a face appears outside the window.

It is Peter Pan, the "Little Boy Who Wouldn't Grow Up!" He slips into the room, a saucy, nervous little imp who flutters from one place to another and hides at the slightest movement from the three children in the beds. Finally Wendy wakes and speaks to him. In the brief time that children take to become acquainted, the two are on excellent terms. Peter tells Wendy he can teach her to fly and promises to take her away with him to Never Land where she can be a mother to the Little Lost Boys.

Delighted, Wendy rouses John and Michael and after some lessons which bring painful falls, the children sail through the window. Mrs. Darling, coming into the nursery, finds the casement open and sees the forms of the four children circle the church steeple and then grow smaller as they fly away among the stars.

The adventures which befall them in the Never-Never Land with pirates, fairies, and Indians are all according to the romantic dreams of children. Finally Peter and the children fly back to the Darling home where Mrs. Darling is overjoyed to receive them. She tries to induce Peter to remain with her but he refuses to stay and grow up, preferring to remain a boy and have fun. She promises to let her children go, once a year, to visit Peter in the Never-Never Land.

Three New Members Installed in Council

Member at Large and One from Junior Class to be Elected—New Members Installed are Nicholson, Rising and Ethel Kaufman.

Three new members of the Student Council were installed Thursday night at the regular meeting of the Council and the ballots cast in the primary to elect a member to succeed Lloyd DeMoss, representative from the student body at large, were counted. The three new members are David Nicholson, Philo, Ethel Kaufman, Excelsior, and Clarence Rising, Eureka.

The "green" ticket candidates were successful in Thursday's primary. The following were the seven highest: Grace Foster, 286; Forrest Smith, 283; Lorene Bruckner, 243; Laveta Epperson, 236; Russel Hamilton, 222; Julia Caldwell, 210. These names will be submitted to the Student Welfare Committee and five of them returned to be voted upon at the general election to be held Thursday of this week.

A vacancy on the Council has been created in the junior class representation as Robert Nicholas, the junior representative, will not be in school this quarter. This vacancy will be filled by the junior class at its regular meeting.

Two matters of importance were brought before the Council Thursday night. The first pertained to the proposed organization of a tennis club. The secretary of the Council was instructed to write to the sponsors of this club the following Council ruling concerning organizations: "Any group of students desiring to organize any school society must present in written form to the Student Council a statement setting forth the reasons for such an organization. If approved by the Student Council the request shall be presented to the Student Welfare Committee and then to the Faculty for approval." It was the opinion of the Council that those students sponsoring the proposed tennis club had forgotten this ruling of the handbook.

The other matter of importance was the appointing of an investigating committee by the president of the Council to gather information concerning the recent sale of the lapel souvenir basketballs. A ruling of the Council says, "That all solicitations in the College halls must have the sanction of the Council and the President of the College." This committee, composed of M. E. Sealeman, Roberta Cook, and R. E. Henning, were instructed to gather information as to the regularity of this sale and report at the next meeting of the Council.

Miss Palmer finished her extension course in Contemporary Poetry at St. Joseph, Saturday, March 14.

Students to Appear in Graduate Recitals

The public is invited to attend the assembly program on Wednesday morning, March 25, at ten o'clock, when Ruth Houchens, a student of the Conservatory of Music will give her senior recital in piano. Miss Houchens is a pupil of Mr. T. H. Annett. She not only graduates in piano this spring, but also receives the A. B. degree from the college. The following program will be given:

Grieg—Sonata in E Minor, Opus 7, First Movement.
Scott—Valse Caprice.
Chopin—Concerto in E Minor, Opus 11, Fourth Movement.
Orchestral part by Mr. Annett.

On Wednesday morning, April 1, Mr. Annett will present Gertrude Delt in a graduating recital in piano at the assembly hour, and on April 15, Marie Cloud, pupil of Mr. Luther Richman, will give her senior voice recital during the assembly period.

ON TEACHING.

If all of teaching were but the dull giving
Forth again of words from the dead past;
Were stripped bare of association
With the living;
Meant merely formulae, dry lines,
Thoughts clasped

With former ways of life now left behind
On the straight high road leading ever on
To those far open spaces where the mind
Sees Life and Education as but one;
Then were full half its savor gone.

To teach
Is first to know that daily one has part
In building-up of personality,
Helping it forward, step by step, to reach
Full growth, and gain the understanding heart.

Such teaching has strength and reality.—Katherine McNeill.

Illustrated Lecture Fills Assembly Hour

Mr. C. A. Abbott, secretary of the Moberly Chamber of Commerce, gave an illustrated lecture on "Bird Life in the United States" at assembly, Wednesday morning.

Mr. Abbott is a naturalist and has written books on "Wild Life in America." He also makes contributions to "Bird Lore."

In order to obtain slides of the various specimens of the bird family, Mr. Abbott has traveled in nearly every state in the union and has traveled extensively in Canada.

Preceding the lecture the Rev. Mr. Snodgrass of the Christian Church led the assembly in the devotions.

Residence Hall accommodated 140 guests during the girls' basketball tournament.

Vesta Kivett visited her parents in Hopkins last week-end.

Merle Ford Tells of Work at Lebanon

Merle Ford, who finished work for the B. S. degree at the close of the fall quarter, is teaching in the high school at Lebanon, Missouri. Miss Ford has charge of the home economics department, teaching the Smith-Hughes work. Her class rooms are located in the beautiful new senior high school building. All the equipment is new, and Miss Ford writes that it is a joy to teach in such a building. Besides sponsoring a Home Economics Club, she has also the duties of junior class adviser and is now hard at work coaching the junior play.

Miss Ford has already taken several trips into the country surrounding Lebanon and has seen some of the lovely scenery and show places of the Ozarks. Lebanon is in the heart of the Ozark region and is the scene of Harold Bell Wright's book, "The Calling of Dan Matthews."

High Schools Appreciate Courier.

Since last fall when the Green and White Courier was enlarged to a full-sized newspaper and made a weekly instead of a bi-monthly publication, the manager and editors have received many letters of appreciation and encouragement from alumni and teachers over the district.

They are always glad to receive these and to print them whenever space limitations permit. To know that one's efforts are appreciated always seems to make the world look a little brighter.

Following is a letter received from Superintendent Harpman of Corning.

"This is to express to you our sincere thanks for The Green and White. It is a source of joy to our students and faculty. It helps us tie up with the educational headquarters of Northwest Missouri. May the Green and White grow bigger and better in our wish."

INDIAN U. HAS NO TRADITION

Old Universities Are Gone, New Ones Are Made Up of Colleges Having no Association With Each Other Except in Matters of Business.

When one recalls that India dates in its history back some three thousand years, he is likely to think that the Universities there are full of old traditions; but according to Hansa Mehta, son of the Grand Vizier in an article for the Yale News, March 12, such is not the case. In fact, there are no universities in India, that is, universities as an American understands the term. This is probably due to two reasons—first, the colleges are scattered over the entire province and second, these Universities are only examining bodies. There were two great Buddhist Universities, Nalanda and Taxila, which, when they existed, were to India as Harvard and Yale are to America today. Many attended these and even foreign students from Tibet and China attended. But these universities are no more.

In the place of these have risen the modern institutions of Bombay, Calcutta, and Madras, which came into existence a short time after London succeeded in getting a University. The professional and commercial phases of life have been stressed in the University of London, rather than the academic side. It is very interesting to know that the functions and system of the London University have been used as a model for the Universities of India.

The Indian universities are controlled to a limited extent by officials. The Chancellor is the head of the system and is usually the governor of that certain province. The Vice-Chancellor is the head of the system and is usually the governor of that certain province. The Vice-Chancellor, who ranks next, is appointed by the University Senate. The Senate is elected by the Fellows, who in turn are elected by the Alumni.

The College represents the true life of the students. The University is thought of only when fees are to be paid or when the students receive degrees from the Chancellor or Vice-Chancellor. There are various clubs, unions and societies. There are athletic clubs; cricket clubs, tennis clubs, debating societies and historical, philosophical and literary societies. The different colleges have no relation with each other, and there is no loyal spirit for the Alma Mater. There are a few inter-collegiate sports, however, such as cricket matches and boat races.

Most of the students are day scholars. Unless a student is a resident of the College, or participates in several social activities, he knows but few other students. There are no instructors who guide the courses of the students. The students see instructors in the lecture rooms only. Some students attend class just to answer roll call and to not use their books until a few days before the close of the term; then they attempt to cram the entire quarter's work into a few days.

Examinations used to be given only once a year, and if a student were unable to write then, he was compelled to wait until the following year to be examined. Some of the Universities now hold examinations twice a year but re-examination in the subject in which the student fails has not yet been accepted.

These are the features of the Indian Universities in general, but there are two which need particular notice. The Hindu University of Benaras seeks to be the center of Hindu culture and is trying to revive the ancient Arayan tongue of India, Sanskrit, while the Moslem University of Aligarh desires to be the center of Moslem culture. The Arabic is the language spoken in the latter. These institutions are, not denominational and there is no rule against accepting any student. It is only that each wishes to develop its own particular culture. An Aligarh student is a great lover of sports and plays hockey, football, polo, cricket, and various other games. The buildings at Benaras are situated on the banks of the holy Ganga, whose purifying waters have washed away the sins of many a generation.

Dean Harward and Mrs. Hastings entertained at dinner Wednesday evening. President and Mrs. Larkin, Mr. and Mrs. Rickenbush, Mr. and Mrs. Foster, Miss Manley and Miss Dickinson, Mrs. Larkin's sister from New York.

CHILLICOTHE GIRLS' TEAM WINS THE CHAMPIONSHIP OF NORTHWEST MISSOURI BY DEFEATING KING CITY

CLEAN PLAYING AND GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP MARK THE 1925 GIRLS' BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT HELD THIS WEEK

Chillicothe won the 1925 championship in the Girls' Basketball Tournament held at the State Teachers College, March 20-21, by defeating King City in the finals by a score of 27 to 13. The Grand Championship Cup, presented by Raines and Chaves, Jewelers, Maryville, was carried home by Chillicothe, and the consolation cup for the runners-up in the tournament was taken by King City.

The whole tournament, in which twenty-two teams took part, was marked by clean playing and good sportsmanship. Mr. Bert Cooper, in presenting the cups, complimented the girls on their fine spirit and expressed the hopes that in all school activities they would show as good a spirit.

The tournament opened Friday morning at 8:30 when drawings for the pairings took place. The referees for the games were Miss Helen Manley of the College, Sam Dubin of Bedford, Iowa, and C. W. Haggerty of St. Joseph.

The first game was played between Trenton and Cameron, two of the strongest teams in the tournament. It was a close and exciting game throughout, with the teams evenly matched. Cameron won by a two point margin; the score was 15-13.

Denton won from Kingston, in the first round of play. Denton's guards showed good work in holding Kingston's forwards to low score. The score was 16-5.

In the game between Gault and Maryville, Gault held the Maryville girls to a 19-8 score. Gault showed some real basketball, especially in the forward section.

A hot and fierce battle was waged between the Elmo and Pattonburg teams. Royston, of Pattonburg, displayed some extra good goal shooting in the first half, tallying six field goals and three fouls. Pattonburg won by a three point margin, the score being 20-17.

Hopkins and New Point each drew a bye. Barnard and Coffey failed to appear, giving Benton a bye in the second round. Chillicothe also advanced to the second round of play by receiving a forfeit from Darlington, who failed to appear.

The "Bouncing Betties" of Parnell won their game with Rock Port by the big score of 37-6. The "Bouncing Betties" were doped as one of the strongest contenders for the highest honors.

The game between King City and Savannah was one of the feature games of the tournament. The play-off of the 5-8 tie at the end of the second half eliminated Savannah by two points. The final score was 19-8.

A good game was staged between Ravenwood and Burlington Junction. Burlington won with a 13-9 score.

Mound City defeated Gower in the last few seconds of play, when Bickel put the ball through the meshes for a two-pointer. The score was Mound City, 23; Gower, 20.

Cameron defeated Hopkins in the second round of play. Cameron obtained a lead early in the game and held it until the final whistle. The game ended 21-11.

The Chillicothe-Pattonburg game was staged in the east gymnasium Saturday morning. Chillicothe eliminated Pattonburg by one point.

The Cameron and Benton game was one of the fastest games of the tournament. At the end of the half, Benton led 7 to 4; at the end of the third quarter Cameron led 11 to 9. The fourth quarter was one of extraordinary basketball. A two minute rest was given when the score stood 12 all. At the beginning of the play-off, Auten of Cameron made a sensational long shot. A few seconds later, two more field goals were made by Cameron. Benton made one foul basket, making the final score Cameron 18, Benton 13.

At the end of the first half, King City led 8-3 in the King City-Parnell game. The final score was 12-8 against Parnell.

Mound City and Burlington had a fierce battle until the fourth quarter, when Burlington Junction staged a rally and won a 20-10 game.

In the semi-final round, Chillicothe defeated Cameron in a fast game. Although Chillicothe held the long end of the score, the game was full of thrills. Frost at center, and Auten at forward, showed some real basketball for the Cameron team. Rensch at center did much for Chillicothe.

In the second game of the semi-final round, King City defeated Burlington with a score of 20 and 9. King City hit the winning stride early in the game. Holman, of King City, was the high point player of the game. She made eight field goals and two fouls. Jones of Burlington Junction made all the points for the losers.

A summary of the games follows:

- Cameron 15, Trenton 13.
- Benton (St. Joseph) 16, Kingston 5.

COLLEGE OATH

"We will never bring disgrace to this our College, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will reverse and obey the College laws, and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will strive unceasingly to quicken the students' sense of duty. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

MORE LATIN MEANS GREATER SUPERIORITY

The records of 10,000 candidates for college entrance made in the 10-year period 1914-1923, inclusive, show that the Latin students do better by about 13 per cent than the non-Latin students in all subjects outside of Latin and Greek, and in general the greater the amount of Latin studied the greater the superiority. Three tests made to determine the reason for their superiority indicated that of the 13 per cent about 2 per cent or 3 per cent was due to initial ability and 11 per cent or 10 per cent to something in the study of Latin. The advocates of formal discipline seem to have been right about the disciplinary values of Latin.

This report of the Classical League will undoubtedly be a classic in educational investigations. The care, thoroughness, and impartiality with which it has been carried on, the spirit of scientific inquiry which has animated it, and the moderation and reasonableness with which the conclusions have been drawn, all commend it as a remarkable project.

The findings will come as a surprise to many who have thought that the classical languages are fast disappearing and should disappear from our schools. The study of Greek is disappearing, but to find more students of Latin than of all other foreign languages combined giving more hours a day to Latin than any other high school subject does not argue any decrease in vital interest in the classics. Neither can one safely say that the subject which attracts the pupils of higher initial ability and the study of which gives them something that greatly increases their superiority should be dropped from the curriculum. The proponents of a study of the classics are in a stronger position now than they have been for many years.—From "School Life."

BE YOURSELF

It seems to me that it is a fatal mistake to copy another's method, just because he has succeeded with it. People who merely imitate others remind me of flying fishes. Their flying doesn't amount to much, compared with that of birds they imitate. I'd rather be a success as a fish than a failure as a fish trying to be a bird.—Eva Le Gallienne in American Magazine.

Students of Mr. Rogers' penmanship class for the winter quarter won not only their certificates, but also the records for speed. LaVerne Patterson wrote a one-page specimen at the beginning of the term in 5 minutes and 35 seconds and wrote the specimen three months later, legible and accurate, in 3 minutes and 30 seconds; Ida Field lowered a record of 5 minutes and 30 seconds to 3 minutes and 40 seconds; and John Hathaway, who wrote in the beginning at the rate of 6 minutes and 15 seconds, wrote the same specimen in 4 minutes and 40 seconds on the final test.

Teachers' Penmanship Certificates were received by Mariel M. Alexander, Jeannie Blacklock, Cecil F. Brown, Julia Caldwell, Loren T. Carter, Golda Danier, Ruth Mary Decker, Glola Eckles, Ida Field, LaVon Gabbert, Pauline Greeley, John Hathaway, Nora Kelly, Vesta B. Kivett, Lucile LaMar, Lucy Frances Meyer, LaVerne Patterson, Georgia Poynter, Dorris Shuler, Daley Snyder, Ethel Stevenson, Elizabeth Sweat, Doyle E. Thomas, and Florence Walker.

The Students' Final Certificate was granted to Crystal Fleetwood, Joe A. Gex, Opal Kulkey, Elsa Hilsenbeck, Clarence Jenkins, and Verla McGinness.

The Improvement Certificate was granted to Grace Connor, Lovella Reece, Delman Roelofson, Claude Shaffer, Gladys E. Hornbuckle, and Nelle Swinehart.

Several students received medals and certificates of honor in the Commerce Department last month. Nellie Murphy, Jessamine Williams, and Cleo Holt were awarded the Remington Pin for typing at the rate of 50 words a minute. Mrs. Eunice Timmons, H. W. LeMaster and Dean Johnson made a record of 40 words a minute on the Underwood machine and received the Underwood Medal. Mildred Shinabargar, Lena Ferguson and Lavella Reece were awarded the Underwood Certificate for typing at the rate of 30 words. Alta Argo and Nellie Murphy passed the Competent Test for February.

Lois Lawson passed the Shorthand Transcription Test with a record of 100 words a minute, Wavie McKee with a record of 80 words, and Alta Argo with a record of 60 words.

Teachers wishing to teach penmanship next year may gain some clever ideas from the penmanship budgets in the hall opposite the Book Store. The work is exhibited by the penmanship class taught by Mr. Rogers.

There are 29 students taking Business Correspondence, which is being offered for the first time this quarter.

MUSIC

The music department of the college is offering courses in class lessons in band and orchestra instruments, called Instrumental Music 12a-b-c. Students are given actual playing experience on band and orchestra instruments. The course is open to pupils specializing in the music supervisor's course. The school provides the instruments.

The modern idea of instrumental music being taught in class groups is carried out in this course. The same work is being done in a very large way in piano through the Dunning system, which was introduced into the school three years ago and which has been very successful.

READING AND SPEAKING

The college debate squad, coached by Mr. Miller, is practicing daily. Teams have been matched for debate as follows: Richard Baker and Burdette Yeo, affirmative, will meet Springfield at Cape Girardeau; David Nicholson and Doy Carr, negative, will meet Peru at Peru, April 3; Melvin Rogers and Clarence Bush, negative, will meet Kirksville at Warrensburg; Leslie Holcomb and Fred Street were chosen for alternates.

A growing interest was shown for debate this year. There were 14 in the tryouts.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Mr. E. Daniels reports that more courses are in demand this quarter than last. A larger number are wanting to take wood turning than there is room for; the class now has a full schedule. Last the members of the class started studying the care of the lathes, and the holding of the tools; this week they will start making small articles such as potato mashers and darning eggs.

A course in tool sharpening is offered this quarter, and the boys have started by sharpening tools used at home.

Oren Masters has just completed a laboratory cabinet for Mr. Leeson's department, and is now engaged in making a food cabinet for the training school.

ENGLISH

The class in Appreciation of Literature, English 75, is new and was organized for those students specializing in other departments than English. Students are enrolled now from the Music, Home Economics, Commerce, and Art departments. At present they are studying lyrical poetry.

Miss Bowman's class in English Literature has more boys enrolled than girls. This is rather an unusual occurrence.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Commencing with the opening of this quarter every man enrolled in S. T. C. will be required to participate in some form of athletics. This is in accordance with the new movement in education in the state which seeks to provide for the instruction of every college and high school student in physical education.

Besides the regular track practice and spring football, three physical education classes are offered, one at each period in the morning except the first. This gives every man, who does not report for track practice or football, an opportunity to enroll in one of these classes.

All kinds of athletics are given to the men in these classes, such as soccer football, baseball, volleyball and other sports which can be carried on during the spring.

Maryville Loses To Cape Speakers

Paul Stone, representing Maryville in oratory, and Mr. Botts, representing Springfield, lost to Mr. Aly of Cape Girardeau in the inter-collegiate oratorical contest held at Springfield last Friday evening. Mr. Aly also representing Cape Girardeau in the extemporaneous contest, which was held in the afternoon, won over Emil Coler of Maryville.

Dr. O. P. Dillinger, a member of the faculty of Pittsburg, Kansas College, Dr. J. W. Barley of the Rolla School of Mines, and L. M. Short of the University of Missouri acted as judges.

Mr. Miller reports that the crowd was large on Friday evening. The speakers were treated with the greatest courtesy. The winning school yelled for Maryville and Springfield when their speakers went on the stage. It is the opinion that Mr. Stone's oration was cut on thought. Mr. A. W. Vaughan, Head of the Department of Public Speaking at Cape Girardeau, declared it the best contest he had witnessed. In the Capaha Arrow of March 10, Mr. Vaughan's comment, after reading copies of the orations to be delivered, was as follows: "The oration from Maryville, entitled, 'A Debt to Our Forefathers,' is slightly inclined to the old type of oratory. It is rather striking for effective phrase and noble sentiment."

Hazel Wright visited her family in Rosendale over the week-end.

IF SHOES COULD TALK

There would be many a pair at the College and all over Nodaway County who would be shouting for joy at the new lease of life they had obtained at Shanks. And in a voice louder than the squeak of any new one they would tell you the economy they meant to their owners. Don't jilt your old shoes who have been so nice and easy to your feet—let them drink at our fountain of youth.

Makes Study of Consolidation

A study of consolidated schools in the nineteen counties of the Maryville Teachers College District has been completed by Elmer D. Harpham, of Corns.

The following summary is taken from a pamphlet he has published.

There are sixty-two consolidated schools in the Maryville Teachers College District. Of this number, forty-eight maintain first class high schools; seven maintain second class schools, five have third class schools, and two maintain no high school.

Nodaway and Holt are tied for first place in consolidation with Harrison and Ray close seconds. Clay is the only county without a consolidated school.

Skidmore has the largest valuation, which is $3,350,500. The smallest valuation is $750,000, which is at Camden Point. The highest levy is $1.30 at Mt. Moriah. The largest district in area is Central in Ray County with an area of 45 square miles, the smallest is Edgerton with 14 square miles.

The largest enrollment is Sheridan with an enrollment of 97 pupils. Seventeen of these schools have some form of transportation.

Spring Football Has Started

Spring football practice is under way. Each evening under the direction of Coach Jones, assisted by Captain-elect Sam England, about 25 men "work out" on the athletic field. It reminds one of the days last fall when each afternoon after 3:20 the Bearcats could be seen out on the old S. T. C. gridiron "doing their stuff."

The spring football practice, for which 125 hours credit is given, serves both as a physical education class and as a training school where in the material for the fall football team is whipped into shape.

"In All Fairness"

Hear what Edward W. Cochrane, sports editor of the Kansas City Journal-Post, has to say of the coaching staff at the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College:

One more Missouri institution has been put on the athletic map by the very thing that has put most of the institutions on it—the employment of competent athletic directors and coaches. We refer here to Maryville State Teachers College at Maryville, Mo., where H. Frank Lawrence, known to his friends as "Shorty," is director of Athletics and Paul ("Pete") Jones is his assistant.

H. Frank Lawrence went to Maryville in September, 1923. Since he has been there he has turned out a winner in football, basketball, and track—not all champions, but winners—terms that command the respect of rival aggregations.

Before Lawrence went to Maryville that team did little in football and not as much as it should in other sports. He has worked hard to perfect winning machines and his success in all sports have been remarkable.

Lawrence learned football, track and basketball under Earl A. "Lefty" Davis, when the latter was athletic director at Missouri Wesleyan college, Cameron, Mo., an institution that has a habit of turning out winning teams in all branches of sport. He was a star athlete there. After leaving Wesleyan he coached a couple of years, and then went to Maryville. He says he is going to have a splendid track team this year and has entered men in the Drake relays. His team may also compete in the Kansas relays.

Paul R. ("Pete") Jones went to Maryville from Argentine High School where he made an enviable reputation as coach in four sports—football, basketball, track and baseball. He assists Lawrence in each of them now.

Not so many years ago the University of Kansas had Jones. Then he was guard on the football team and his splendid playing won him an all-valley berth on several teams. He was a stone wall on defense. It was never safe to hit his side of the line. Opposing teams soon found this out and avoided that spot. Jones is a giant in size but for one of his weight and inches he is fast.

Last fall one of the strong points of Maryville's football team was the line. It held. What gains opposing teams made were not made through the line, unless regulars were hurt and it became necessary to put in substitutes. Jones worked with that line all year and his efforts had much to do with the success of the team. Maryville has a splendid combination in Lawrence and Jones to handle its athletics.

A school has been organized for cheerleaders at the University of Iowa, under the direction of the department of speech and physical education.

At the University of Vermont and at the Virginia University "cuts" allowed are based on scholastic standing. Students with an "E" standing are permitted to be absent from classes oftener than those with inferior standing.

Founder's Day was recently celebrated at the University of North Dakota. Sunday, February 22, marked the forty-second anniversary of the establishment of the University.

Dollye Frogge, a former student, who is now teaching in St. Joseph, was in Maryville, March 12, with two of her students who were attending the spelling contest.

Lowell Livengood, B. S. 1920, and Mrs. Livengood were at the College, Friday, Mr. Livengood coaches the Elmo girls basketball team.

Pearl and Elsie Dilly drove to Patsburg, Friday evening, March 20, to spend the week-end with their parents.

Gladys Brown was called to her home in Skidmore last week because of the death of her mother.

The Missouri University Glee Club recently won third in the ninth Intercollegiate Glee Club contest at New York. Yale repeated its victory of last year, and carried off highest honors. Fourteen clubs participated.

Georgia Poynter visited from Friday until Sunday with her parents in Bigelow.

Earl Jones is engaged in making bird houses for Mrs. Cal Pierce.

Wanda Hawkins is confined to her home at Gault because of illness.

Mary Riggs of Residence Hall was ill last week.

The Stroller

By ????

The Stroller has discovered that there are "Krabs" at other Colleges besides S. T. C. This week he has taken a flying trip to several institutions in the West for the express purpose of bringing back funny stories for the students of S. T. C. who have been crabbng about the noticeable lack of humor in the Stroller's weekly remarks.

At the Northern State Teachers College, Aberdeen, South Dakota, she got hold of these remarkable "Krabs," which somehow have a familiar ring: "Krab 1. Mr. L's secretary wishes they would require spelling as a prerequisite for budding journalists." "What about Miss Dykes' secretary?"

"Krab 2. "One thing about basketball season being over is that the boys haven't got any excuse to offer for failure to have their lessons."—A la Mlle. Terhuine, j'est-ce pas?"

"Krab 3. If giving up going to dances with men is a suitable sacrifice for Lent, then I'm living in a continual Lent."—Despairing senior at S. T. C. Who can guess?"

And that reminds the Stroller of a bit of fun he picked up at the Nebraska State Teachers College at Kearney, as he was journeying towards home. It runs like this, in the fashion of free verse.

"Two things keep me from dancin' perfectly."

"What are they?"

"My feet."

Perhaps this explains the reason for despair of the above unhappy senior.

The Stroller has been disappointed for the last two or three weeks in the absence of a cross-word puzzle. She is afraid that the editor of the Green and White has already found out what happened to a poor student at Kearney, and will therefore refuse to give any more space to the puzzles. He thought he would keep the news quiet and trust to his strong eyes but since the Courier has insisted on taking away her greatest joy, she will "tell the world" that he heard about the distressing accident just referred to.

"How'd you get so cross-eyed?"

"Working cross-word puzzles. One eye looks horizontal and the other vertical."

Speaking of eyes, the Stroller is reminded of a new kind of treatment about which she learned at the College of Idaho, Caldwell, Idaho. She nearly forgot about her short visit at this place, having flown there from South Dakota. The following will explain to students of S. T. C. all that they need to know about it:

Son: "Dad, I must go to New York and get my eyes treated."

Dad: "All right, my boy, here's a ticket to the Follies."

The Stroller wonders if this treatment was effective in the recent exhibition of the Follies given at the St. Patrick's Carnival!

He found out that the students of the College of Idaho have an "Aunt Peggy" to whom they take all their troubles in love affairs. "Aunt Peggy" in turn gives advice. The Stroller thinks S. T. C. needs an Aunt Peggy to settle similar affairs, so that there would not be so much discussion about them in the library when he wants to study. Recently he sat across the table from "John and Mary" and had to listen ("Twas absolutely unavoidable") to their arguments for a whole period. When the bell rang and he had to go to a sociology class, her brain was a confused mass of facts, whether of loveology or sociology, it is hard to say.

At Kearney the Stroller had an accident with his aeroplane and had to leave it for repairs. He hopes he can get it by next week so that he can make further explorations.

Literary Society Notes

EUREKAN NOTES

At the meeting of the Eureka Literary Society last Thursday afternoon "St. Patrick's Day" was observed. The roll call was answered with Irish jokes. An Irish reading was given by Irene Goff. Kathleen Gray sang Irish songs. Clarence Rising was elected a member of the Student Council.

EXCELSIOR NOTES

Eighteen members and visitors were present at the Excelsior Literary Society last Thursday to enjoy the "Coomville Revival" under the leadership of Gaium Findley.

The program committee is arranging good live programs in the hope of preventing the slump in attendance and interest which frequently occurs after the stress of the inter-society contests. The literary society is a practice school where lessons in co-operation and literary work are planned and executed. Students interested in self-improvement are invited to join their efforts with the Excelsiors for their own good and the honor of the college.

Ethel Kaufman was chosen to represent the Excelsiors on the Student Council. Zane Hoyt was chosen as alternate.

Paul Stone was absent on account of having gone to Springfield to represent the college in the oratorical contest.

PHILOMATHEAN NOTES

The Philomatheans gave a clever "St. Pat" program at their regular meeting last Thursday afternoon.

Following is a summary of the program.

Talk, "St. Patrick's Day" by Helen Nail; Solo, Elizabeth Mills; talk, "Irish Music, Art, and Literature" by Oma Ross.

Preceding the program each one answered the roll call with an Irish joke.

Children's Chorus To Sing Classics

The Children's Chorus from the Maryville public schools will assist the Conservatory faculty in concert on Sunday evening, May 3. This is the second appearance of the Children's Chorus. They are working hard to make this program a greater success than last year.

It is interesting to know that the children of the grade schools are permitted to sing some of the great classics in vocal music. It will be understood that in many cases their flexible voices can interpret the great works with greater skill than can the mature voices. On the program which appears below will be noted selections from two of Mendelssohn's great oratorios. The other numbers consist of unison and part art-songs with the rendition of the beautiful hymn, "Abide With Me" in three parts. The children are taking great interest in this program and it is clearly seen that children of this age find greater enjoyment in the noted classics than they do in the lighter class of music.

The selections which the Children's Chorus will give on the program are as follows:

"Morning Song"—Tosti.
"Sailing Song"—Lehar.
"Vesper Hymn"—Russian Air.
"The Sun, Worshippers"—Zuni Melody.
"Antiphonal Chorus."
"When the Shadders Spread Around"—Dvorak. With Soprano and Viola Obligate.
"Abide With Me"—Monk.
"But the Lord is Mindful of His Own" (St. Paul)—Mendelssohn.
"If With All Your Hearts" (Elijah)—Mendelssohn.

About Former Kittycat

Lola McNeel, former captain of the Kittycats, is the subject of an article in the Gallatin Democrat of March 19. In part, the article follows.

"Miss Lola McNeel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. McNeel, who live between Gallatin and Jameson, has perhaps made the greatest record of any girl from this county, (Davies) in the line of athletics. She received her letter and certificate last summer but has modestly said nothing about it until her parents 'gave her away' this week.

"Miss McNeel, now teaching physical education at Rockport, Mo., was a member of the Jameson High School before going to the State Teachers College at Maryville. At the latter school she played for two years on the famous girls' basketball team, 'The Kittycats,' which in the last four years has not lost a game. Miss McNeel was captain of the team during her second year at Maryville, and is the only Davies County girl who has ever played on the team.

"While at the State Teachers College she was also vice-president of Minni-chee-ock, the girls' athletic association, was leader of the Hiking Club, and a member of the Riding Club."

College Loses Money On Tournaments

In checking up the Boys' Basket

Ball Tournament, held on March 13 and 14, it was found that, despite the fact that weather and road conditions made the receipts $170 less than they were last year and that a larger number of entries made the expenses about $70 more than they were a year ago, the net profit realized from the tournament was $101.04. The spelling contest on Thursday, March 12, cost the College $91.40, so that on the three days of high school contests, a net profit of $9.60 was made.

On the other hand, the college paid the expenses of the victorious Pickering team when they went to Springfield to compete in the State tournament last week. This amounted to about $250, toward which the $9.60 profit would not go far.

It is interesting to know these facts, since they show that there is always a loss in actual cash to the college resulting from these tournaments; when it seems to observers that the college must be making considerable money on them. This loss, however, is not regretted, for the college gains in many ways from the assembling together of groups of contestants of the various high schools of the district. They mean to the college new associations, and in many cases, future students. Excellent material is discovered also among these different contestants, for the next year's basketball teams at the college.

Gordon Stone, a senior at S. T. C., went to St. Joseph, Saturday, March 14, where he will serve for three weeks or longer as a substitute teacher in the Commerce Department of the Robidoux High School. After finishing his work at St. Joseph, he will return to S. T. C. to complete the work on his degree, which he expects to receive next June.

On Monday evening, March 23, the faculty members' dancing class will hold a dance at the Country Club.

PETER PAN

HERBERT BRENON

Come fly away with Peter Pan from a workaday world to the Never, Never Land, a fairyland of dreams.

To the grown-ups it will stir golden memories of the by-gone days of youth.

To the kiddies it will show, before their very eyes the fairies, Indians, Pirates and other fantastic creatures of their playful imaginations.

Everyone will laugh at the sweet, wholesome humor of Pete Pan, "The Little Boy Who Wouldn't Grow Up."
